General Comment

Coal is not a reasonable choice for energy production in an age of alternate energy sources. It is dying a natural death. Squeezing out the last cent of profit at the expense of the American people and the environment is criminal in light of the the REAL threat of Global Warming.

Coal mined from Public Land is already undervalued and WE the American People, whom this government is sworn to protect, are ill served by any process designed to protect Coal at the Public's expense.

Please try to remember where your loyalties lie.
