General Comment

You need to start being pro business for the mining industry and stop putting out rules and regulations that make my customers suffer.

the draft rule is bad for the American people because it will diminish revenues from public lands by discouraging coal production, bad for Wyoming residents because it will add to revenue shortfalls in coming years as the Clean Power Plan and the rule combine to cut royalty disbursements to the state that fund education and infrastructure, and bad for the economy of the state and jobs as the rule jeopardizes access to a potential 100 million ton per year export market for Powder River Basin coal.
