General Comment

Do NOT REPEAL the 2017 Valuation Rule, at all. The president should not have the right to abolish all regulations, in an effort to both gain control and free up federal funds for an unwanted "wall" and unnecessary defense budget. It is a move that reeks of the dictators he appears to idolize, and goes against the principles of democracy that this country is meant to be founded on.

These rules keep the American people safe and prevent the president and our government from controlling the government. They must be upheld, or our government is a sham. An executive order is not meant to sweep away democracy.

DO NOT REPEAL THE RULE.
