General Comment

I have worked in the coal mining industry for 25 years in Montana. It has been the most rewarding job I have ever had in my working career. Coal miners are like a big family we look out for each other every day. We have all raised our families bought houses, our company's have contributed to the communities in many ways. I have traveled around the country and most people don't realize what the coal industry does for America and the world. I believe this proposed rule would hurt our industry to the point that jobs would be lost companies, would go out of business, states and counties would loose tax money for roads, schools ECT.
